Professional Services & NGOs

Professional services and activities of civil society are critical to the success of the private sector. Specialized services such as legal advice, accounting, and consultancy support businesses to achieve results. They struggle to recruit and retain talented individuals to provide value for their customers. NGOs push for regulatory reforms to make businesses more transparent, accountable, and responsible to the communities.

StratejiCo. advises professional services firms to position themselves in a way that ensures a highly skilled workforce, excellent client satisfaction and compliance with good governance principles. We also provide guidance to NGOs to help them become more effective in the business world.
